APRIL COURT DAY LARGELY ATTENDED

Cattle In Big Demand and Mules Higher Than Ever. Very Little Other Stock On Market. .

As usual, April court day in Richmond brought forth a large crowd and possibly five thousand people were in the city during the day from all sections of the state. Both stock yards were crowded with cattle of all kinds and bidding was spirited on this kind of stock. Very few hogs and sheep were on the market, being an off season for them.

Many Cattle On Hand Possibly 2,500 head of cattle were on hand at both the East End and the Madison stock yards and all were sold before the day was over at prices sold four car loads of mixed cattle at 10 to 14 cents. They also sold four car loads of draft horses and mules. Mules Are High Although there were a large number of mules on the market traders were of the opinion that first class mules were scarce today and prices higher than ever. J. H. Burke of Silver Creek bought a good one from buyers who were getting a few at prices up to $350 were Chas. Fortner and Sid Burch of Winchester, Bowen G. Cox of Danville, Mr. Peel of Nicholasville.

Joe F. Patterson and Co. made the following sales of horses during the day: One pair of work horses to Lee Congleton for $246, young work mare to John Adams, $112.50, one gelding to George Noland for $125, one bay gelding to Melvin Warner for $125, pair of grey gelding to R. A. Vinson for $240.

Court Day Notes That Patterson and Co. find Richmond a good horse market is evidenced by the large number they bring here every court day.

WM. R. BOGGS VICTIM OF TERRIBLE ACCIDENT

Prominent Young Farmer, Accidentally Shot By Friend, Dies On Way To Hospital.

The community was shocked late flashed around town that William R. Boggs had been accidentally killed while fishing near Shearer, about 10 miles north of Richmond. The particulars of the sad accident, as nearly as can be learned, are as follows:

Mr. Boggs and his friend, Clifton Weaver, of this city, were going to the reek about a mile below Shearer to fish and Weaver was taking his rifle along to do some shooting. The de ceased was walking about ten feet in front of Weaver and while going thru some brush near the creek the rife accidentally went off, the bullet striking Boggs in the hip, ranging downward, breaking the bone in the hip and upper leg and severing an important artery in the leg.

Weaver seeing his friend seriously injured, summoned Dr. R. C. Boggs, who immediately set out in a car with medical sscience to save the life. Their efforts were unsuccessful, however, as Mr. Boggs died on the way to a local hospital.

William Boggs, better known to his friends as "Billy" was in his 42nd year. Besides his wife who was Miss Cora Shearer, he is survived by his mother, Mrs. Margaret Boggs, two brothers, Dr. Robert C. and B. F. Boggs, of this city, and Mrs. Walker McKinney, of Georgetown, all of whom have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

Mr. Boggs was born and reared in this county, and had been operating his farm at Red House for many years. He was very popular throughout the whole community, honorable, upright in all his dealing, esteemed by everyone, and his death came as a severe shock to his many friends, and especially to Weaver, who has been confined to his bed with nervous prostration since the terrible accident or
